Burbage Theatre Co continues their 12th Season with April De Angelis’s Playhouse Creatures in partnership with WomensWork Theatre Collaborative

PAWTUCKET, RI January 11, 2024 —

Immediately following their RI premiere production of Aziza Barnes’s BLKS and the World Premiere of Aaron Blanck’s Hanukkah Schmanukkah, Burbage Theatre Co continues their 12th Season with Playhouse Creatures by April De Angelis, directed by MJ Daly. This marks Burbage’s second co-production with WomensWork Theatre Collaborative, following last year’s highly acclaimed production of The Oldest Profession by Paula Vogel. Playhouse Creatures will be presented for 13 performances from February 1 through February 25 at Burbage Theatre Co’s Wendy Overly Studio Theatre.

“We were excited with our first partnership with Lynne Collinson and WomensWork Theatre Collaborative, but this project only builds on the foundation created by last season’s The Oldest Profession. WomensWork continues to prove that those who are undervalued in the theatre are no less capable at provoking thought and stirring hearts – in this way, WWRI are direct descendants of the pioneering heroines of this play. Playhouse Creatures – an excellent backstage play with a massive heart, rife with humor, but around whose edges lurks a grim reality – strikes a perfect balance. A dually mission-oriented play, coupled with an expert ensemble of actors and an incredible design team – this production seamlessly continues our 12th season. We can’t wait to share it with you.”

— Jeff Church, Artistic Director, Burbage Theatre Co

“Following the success of The Oldest Profession, WomensWork Theatre Collaborative is thrilled to be welcomed back to Burbage Theatre Company to present Playhouse Creatures, an ideal vehicle for our ongoing partnership. The play, under MJ Daly’s expert direction, fulfills Burbage’s goal to produce compelling stories that excite and engage audiences. It also meets WomensWork’s mission to promote female-identifying playwrights and plays with significant roles for older women. We’re grateful that Burbage’s commitment to inclusion brings opportunities for artists of all ages, like the five First Ladies of Restoration theatre our audiences are about to meet.”

— Lynne Collinson, Founder/Creative Director, WomensWork Theatre Collaborative

Burbage Theatre Co’s production of April De Angelis’s Playhouse Creatures begins previews on February 1 and closes on February 25 after 13 performances.

All performances will take place at Burbage Theatre Co’s Wendy Overly Studio Theatre 59 Blackstone Avenue, Pawtucket, RI 02860.

Critics and members of the Press are Invited to join us on our Pay-What-You-Will Performance (Saturday, February 3 at 7:30pm) or on our Sunday Preview performance (Sunday, February 4 at 2:00pm).

"An immense talent and witty sensitive dialogue...Thoroughly entertaining."

— Tribune

The year is 1669 a bawdy and troublesome time. Theaters have just reopened after seventeen years of Puritan suppression. There is a surge in dramatic writing and the first English actresses appear on stage. Playhouse Creatures focuses on five of the most famous (Nell Gwyn, Elizabeth Farley, Rebecca Marshall, Doll Common and Mary Betterton) to provide a moving and often comic account of the precarious lives of Restoration actresses.

"Flesh and blood heroines...move and inspire...a few more female role models stamped firmly on your heart."

— Time Out New York

"With delicious absurd extracts from the heroic repertory and frantic dressing room scenes, the prevailing tone is comic but you are not allowed to forget the gutter waiting to reclaim these glittering figures."

— The Independent
